RoHS Policy

Since the implementation of the RoHS legislation on 1st July 2006, RoHS 2 on 21st July 2011 and RoHS 3 on June 2015, Inelco Hunter Limited has maintained a policy of supplying compliant product unless specifically requested otherwise.

Customers requiring non-RoHS components are asked to check beforehand whether the leaded options are still available, as many components are no longer manufactured in this form. Customers are also requested to always make their RoHS requirements clear on their purchase orders, at time of order placement.

Some manufacturers' part numbers have been changed to indicate their RoHS status - but many have not. If you require confirmation of the status of any particular part then please contact our Engineering department on the following email address:
